Observations...

By the Editor

When the motion for reconsideration of the toll bridge bill was taken up in the house, Representative Francis Lee of Hancock County, demanded that the bill be changed to eliminate the provisions for a trustee bank and then over in the Senate when the bill reached that body for concurrence in the house amendments, Senator Cornelius J. Ladner said: "I want to get rid of that Damn Trustee thing in that bill and make it decent." The bill provides that the bonds and revenue on the proposed bridge, will be administered by a bank, acting as trustee. The trustee would be appointed by the Governor with the recommendations of the Highway Commission. . . . didn't the boys from Hancock County vote for the bill in its original form . . . why should they have a sudden change of heart . . . and where does the senator get the idea that there is so much confusion and chaos about the conditions of the bill, when he said "I want to cut down the confusion and chaos among the people down on the coast whom I represent" . . . we are confused and in a state of chaos because our representatives have fiddled around and allowed a toll bridge to be saddled on us . . . we are certainly not confused nor in a state of chaos because the bill provides for the appointment of one of the banks of either Harrison or Hancock County as a trustee to handle the funds, etc. . . . we think this is the only part of the bill worth a hoot . . . again why the change of heart . . . is it because the Highway Commission and the Governor can't be handled in the matter . . . no boys it is too late to start fighting over the trustee matter . . . you let your folks go down the river when you didn't make a fight since you have been in office for a free bridge . . . we have not always agreed with Hilton Waits, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the Legislature, but we were certainly attracted by his argument for the toll bridge bill, which was up for reconsideration and in answer to the argument advanced by Representative Francis Lee said: "You know the Coast can't ever agree on anything they send up here. I'm not much in favor of this proposition, but I know they need bridges and the only way they'll get them is through a toll bridge. The main argument over this thing is who is going to be the trustee" . . . how true . . . we can't ever seem to agree and of course he was right . . . the balance of the bill meant nothing to our representatives . . . it is solely a question of who was to be appointed trustee . . . and again who is responsible for the awakening of our legislators at this late hour . . . could it be that the fight to rid Hancock County of the syndicated rackets is at the bottom of this fight as it has been at the bottom of many of the others, which have prohibited the advance of our county . . . from all indications this fight is to be a continuous one . . . the Supreme Court of Mississippi has finally disposed of the slot machine cases on the suggestion of error . . . they have held that the chancery court of Hancock County was correct in granting injunctions in this matter . . . and the mandate is back in the Chancery Clerk's office and writs of injunction have been issued and served . . . there are still some thirty cases on the Chancery Court docket awaiting the action of the Supreme Court . . . now the question . . . will it be necessary for individuals to continue the fight to suppress the rackets by means of injunctions . . . or will the men who head the syndicate realize how much good they could do for their county and their community if they would accept the decision of the courts, and join hands to afford a sound and harmonious leadership for Hancock County . . . and too, will the Sheriff of Hancock County who is the chief law enforcement officer, continue to force the seeking of relief in the Chancery Court, or will he realize that the slot machine racket is a lost cause, and lend his efforts to remove them from the county, destroying the syndicate, and thereby probably bring about some harmony . . . and then perhaps the wish of Senator Ladner to remove chaos and confusion will be realized . . .

August Schiro, 71 Dies March 20

August Schiro, who was 71 years of age, died at his home here Monday, March 20, at 9:40 p. m. following an illness of two weeks.

Funeral services were held from the Lamana-Panno-Fallo, Inc., funeral home in New Orleans, Wednesday, March 22 at 10:45 a. m. with religious services at St. Mary's Italian church; interment was in Metairie cemetery.

LIVED HERE 40 YEARS

Mr. Schiro, a native of Contessa, Entellina, Italy, was a resident of New Orleans for twenty-five years; he moved to Bay St. Louis forty years ago where he owned and operated the Boston Shoe Store during that time.

He was a member of the Pere Le Duc Council of the Knights of Columbus of Bay St. Louis and of the Contessa Entellina Society of New Orleans.

Surviving the deceased are his wife, Mrs. Ignazio Pizzitola Schiro; a son, Dr. John P. Schiro; a brother, Andrew Schiro and a sister, Nanette Schiro, all of New Orleans; two brothers, Jack and Gaspar Schiro and a sister, Caroline Schiro, of Contessa Entellina, Italy. ## C. OF C. REAPPOINTS FOGGING COMMITTEE

The committee to fog the town for pest control was re-appointed to act for the year and secure the best possible arrangement to secure necessary equipment for fogging. At the regular meeting of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, March 4, Octave Delph was re-named chairman of the group.

During the discussion, it was brought out that two propositions had been offered; one, which would cost approximately $300.00 and another at a cost of $600.00. The committee will make an investigation and decide upon the best arrangement. A public subscription will then be solicited to raise the necessary funds, the chairman said.

Through Dr. C. M. Shipp's office, the City would be asked to furnish the necessary gasoline, kerosene and a driver to carry on this work.

The group previously appointed to contact Pass Christian Isles property owners, reported on the progress made, giving all details of a meeting held last Sunday at Hotel Reed.

RUSSELL LOANS LAND

When this plan had to be abandoned, Mrs. Theo Tudury suggested that they obtain some other location, because the playground was needed in Bay St. Louis. Her son-in-law, Dan M. Russell, Jr., volunteered to loan some of his property located on South Beach, just two doors from St. Stanislaus College, for the use of the Woman's Civic Organization in establishing this recreation center.

The necessary playground equipment has been ordered and should be in before April 9, the president said.

BIRTH OF ORGANIZATION

In December a group of ladies joined together to form the Woman's Civic Organization; their main objective was to provide the children of Bay St. Louis with recreation grounds. They elected Mrs. Frank Kiefer as their president; Mrs. John Seafide as vice-president; Mrs. Theo Tudury, treasurer; and Mrs. Tony Nolo as secretary.

RAISE FUNDS

This group was not idle for long; in December they produced a minstrel to obtain funds for the equipment and expense entailed in getting such a project started and completed. With the sum realized from this show they have ordered the equipment and are getting underway with the work on the future City playground.

Swings, see-saws, sand boxes will be in use immediately; it is hoped that eventually barbecue pits, picnic tables and a tennis court will fill the old Kentwood property that was generously loaned for the children by Mr. Russell.

Mrs. James L. Crump has donated some shrubbery for the beautification of the lot, and any other donations that will help get this project ready will be gladly accepted, Mrs. Kiefer added.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE ELECTS OFFICERS

Mrs. T. J. Bourgeois was elected secretary and treasurer of the Hancock County Softball League at a meeting Wednesday night. T. J. Bourgeois was elected league chairman.

Morreale's Park will be open from 9:30 to 12:30 Sunday morning for anyone interested in playing softball; players who want to sign with a team can get in touch with one of the managers, Birch Bankston, Clermont Harbor, phone 550-M-27; Tommy Egloff, Jitney-Jungle, call 270-W; Percy Garriga, Kiln, phone 1198-W; Knights of Columbus, Nelius Favre, phone 544 or 3; Avenue Restaurant, Paul Henley, phone 444-W.

An entrance fee of $25 must be paid by April 1.

Shall We Be A Forgotten People?

Too Late! If we are to have a new bridge on "The Forgotten Highway" over the Bay of St. Louis, it will have to be a toll bridge. The Mississippi Legislature wrote the final stanza to this antiquated farce, this week, when the house defeated a motion to reconsider the bill. That the Senate will concur in the bill as amended by the house is a foregone conclusion.

Will someone tell us why it has been impossible for the State Highway Department to allocate funds from the great sums of money, which have been at their disposal during the past four years, for the improvement of the most important and most travelled highway in the State of Mississippi? Is it because our Highway Commission does not know that the Coast Counties are still a part of Mississippi? Or could it be that our representatives in the Legislature are not big enough to cope with the situation? Whatever it may be, remember WE WILL PAY THE TOLL.

And now, pray tell us, will our representatives stand idly by and allow the Highway Commission, who are not putting up a penny for this new bridge, change the location and add more injury to that which has been inflicted upon us?

We think the people of Bay St. Louis had better alert themselves if they hope to preserve the established businesses and thousands of dollars in property values along the present highway. The hope of depending on influence to be exerted in their behalf, by their elected representatives, may be only wishful thinking.

It is argued, by highway engineers that a right of way of 120 feet must be had for a four lane road. Certainly it could not be their intention to build through the City of Bay St. Louis, the same type of road as has been built on the outskirts of the City, with open drainage and borrow pits. To build a four lane road in its present location, it is only necessary to have 40 feet of roadway and a small space for a neutral ground, if this be necessary. Ulman Avenue, on which the highway is located, has a 50 foot right of way. If an additional 10 feet is needed, who, among the property owners along the right of way, would refuse to give this?

A survey crew of the department has made some temporary locations for the new roadway and bridge. If this location was selected it would cost thousands of dollars more for the construction than the present location, if the bridge was maintained at its present elevation, and then too, the roadway through Bay St. Louis would be a causeway.

A public officer should try to be practical and we sincerely hope that John Smith will at least try to be in this matter. He should finally realize the great damage sustained by the Gulf Coast, when we are made to accept a toll bridge or nothing. In reparation he at least owes a duty to the people of the counties affected to discuss with them the location of this roadway and new bridge.

He should not allow the findings of an engineer, whose sole thought is a line or a curve weigh his decision in a matter which affects the welfare of a people he represents, particularly when they are paying the way.

In addition to living on a "Forgotten Highway," will we have to say, we are a "Forgotten People?" This question will be answered by Mr. Smith.

1950 PASTURE YEAR IS OFF TO A GOOD START

By Howard F. Simmons

PASTURE MANAGEMENT

The 1950 as Pasture Year effort is off to a good start. Minerals and fertilizers put out last fall paid off well, and more farmers are practicing good management than ever before.

Many good management practices to be carried out in the spring will help make good pastures during the summer and fall.

No pasture can be tops if livestock are left on the same area all during the year. Look around, and if there is only one pasture area, put in at least one cross fence.

Do not overgraze is first on the list of practices to follow if pastures are to be good. About the only way to keep from overgrazing is to have enough pasture.

Cross fences will make it possible to change livestock often from one pasture area to another, and this is about like adding more pasture land.

Mowing is another important practice to follow. The mowing machine will keep weeds and bushes from taking up moisture and fertilizer which should go to grass and clover.

Oats to be cut for grain and interplanted with lespedeza should not be grazed in March. Wild winter peas should be grazed all this month.

Oats interplanted in a clover or legume will be grazed out by livestock, leaving only the clover or legume. Cattle like grasses and oats better than clover or legume.

Crimson clover and wild winter peas should be grazed until April 10, and livestock moved if seeds are wanted. As soon as the seeds are harvested, Sudan, millet, grain sorghum or soybeans should be planted at once. Better buy the seed now for these summer temporary grazing crops.

Spring clovers and grasses should be grazed heavier than summer pastures, but livestock should be moved from one area to another each week to keep down overgrazing. Many farmers put three or four cows per acre to keep clovers down to the best height.

FERTILIZE FRUIT TREES

Fertilize fruit trees this month to increase production, improve quality and keep trees in a vigorous condition.

For young, non-bearing trees, apply a nitrogenous fertilizer at the rate of about one-fourth pound of nitrate of soda for each year of age of the tree. Or use a complete fertilizer such as 6-8-4 at the rate of one pound for each year of age of the tree.

To Reduce Colds take 666

THROW AWAY YOUR LAWN MOWER

Plant PURE CULTURE CENTIPEDE LAWN GRASS for a permanent lawn. Needs no mowing. Grows in any soil—in the sun or in the shade. Makes a beautiful carpet and crowds out weeds and all other grasses. We are the original growers from the original stock brought from China. Many other types of grasses are being called CENTIPEDE. Make sure you get pure culture by ordering from us. Can be planted any day of the year. Write for particulars so you can plant at once.

AGENT, LAND'S END FARM, Beville, Texas

Bearing trees growing in soil deficient in phosphorus and potash should have a complete fertilizer such as 6-8-4 or 5-10-5, applied at the rate of one-half to one pound for each year of age of the tree. Follow this up to six pounds for mature peach trees and 10 pounds for extra large apple trees.

As a general rule, use the kind of fertilizer that gives best results with cotton or your soil.

Barnyard manure is excellent to use around fruit trees, especially on weakened ones.

A second application of fertilizer is often needed about six weeks after blooming if a heavy crop of fruit is set. Use about one half the amount recommended for early application.

'MORE TREES' PROGRAM POINTS TO PROFITS IN TREE GROWING

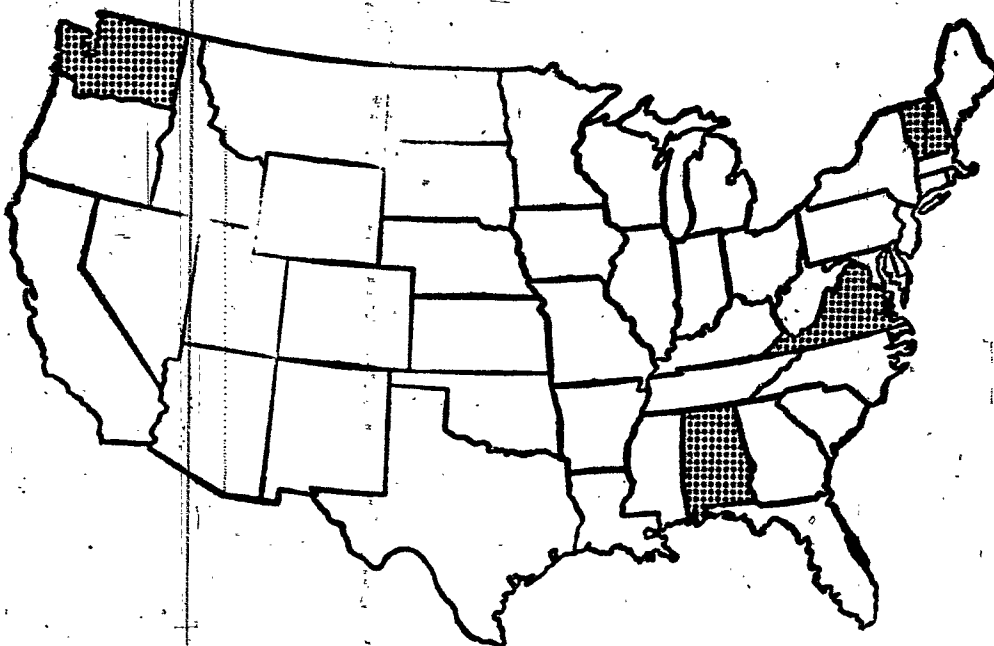

"More Trees for America," an educational program to encourage the Nation's woodland owners to help themselves to tree-growing profits, is in operation in five states today.

Originating in Alabama in 1947, the "More Trees" program is aimed primarily at the small woodland owners who control 75 percent of the country's private commercial forest area. To date more than a quarter of a million of these landowners have been contacted through this program now active in five states.

Although the program is sponsored nationally by American Forest Products Industries, Inc., of Washington, D. C., state groups sponsor and direct their own campaigns. In addition to Alabama, "More Trees" programs are being conducted in New Hampshire, Virginia, Vermont and Washington, and several other states are making plans now to join in the movement.

State programs take two phases: The first is to arouse the landowner's interest; the second to provide on-the-ground instruction in tree growing methods.

The interest-arousing phase is built around a special booklet prepared for each state by AFPI. The booklet touches on woods management but is not a forestry handbook. It explains why good forest management pays, and invites the reader to learn more by mailing an enclosed request for assistance. Promotional activities include an advertising campaign in most rural newspapers, general radio and newspaper publicity, exhibition of a short movie in theaters and exhibition of a film strip, with illustrated manuals, at farm meetings and in schools.

Five states have joined the More Trees for America program. They are indicated in the shaded areas of the map above.

In the second phase of the "More Trees" program, forestry demonstrations are arranged at the request of landowners and held by professional foresters. In Alabama, the services of more than 70 foresters were volunteered for that purpose by industrial and public agencies. In Washington nearly 200 foresters volunteered.

As part of the program, one-week forestry classes are set up in various sections of the states.

"If tree crops were managed as intelligently as other agricultural crops, timber growth and cash income of nearly all farm woodlands in the state could be doubled," said Dean Gordon D. Markworth of the University of Washington College of Forestry when his state launched a "More Trees" program.

Some of the woolen and worsted materials used in men's suits are serge, sharkskin, gabardine, unfinished worsted, tropical worsted, covert, flannel, cheviot, tweed, shetland twists and homespun. Name alone does not guarantee quality. The names used for high quality suitings are also used for suitings cheapened with lower grade wools or other fibers to lessen cost.

FIBER-CONTENT LABELS

On suitings that contain wool, fiber-content labels are required by Federal Law, the Wool Products Labeling Act of 1939. If they are missing, ask the salesman about them.

Though the information you get from these labels is not a complete guide to cloth quality, it does tell you: (1) wool fiber content—the kind of wool and how much the suiting contains, (2) percentage, if any, of fibers other than wool, (3) name of the manufacturer or persons selling the suit, or the registration number of the manufacturer together with the name of the retailer or seller.

The information on the label applies only to the outer cloth, not to the lining and hidden materials inside the coat unless they are specifically mentioned.

Facts are much needed to help men buy suits wisely and well. Examining a suit and asking questions is never an entirely reliable guide to value. These facts can only be applied by an adequate label. The buyer needs facts with reference to materials used, workmanship, colorfastness and shrinkage.

Men—why not ask for more adequate suit labels?

A RUSSIAN WAR?

Possibly the foremost question in the minds of the average American is the possibility of a shooting war with Russia. The press of this country is daily full of news articles and the writings of columnists dealing with this subject. The radio commentators are continuously dissenting on the subject. Every action of Russia and the attitude of Kremlin is played up. This results naturally in raising great apprehension among our people. There is a general feeling in this country that a shooting war with the Soviet Republic is inevitable.

EUROPEAN ATTITUDE

While it is true that Communism made great strides immediately following World War II in this country, and the Communists had succeeded in infiltrating themselves into the labor unions, among the Negroes of the country, and even in the Government, it is equally true that as a result of an alerted public opinion in this country the Communists have lost considerable ground in the past two or three years. And today any American in this country who is even suspected of having Communist leanings is almost ostracized. The CIO, which had become the victim of this successful infiltration more than any other group of people, has largely succeeded in driving the Communists out of that powerful group. Again, the Government, Senator McCarthy notwithstanding, has succeeded in getting rid of most of the adherents to the Moscow line. That there are Socialists and Fellow Travelers still in the Government is unquestioned.

On the other hand, it is interesting to note that among our allies in Europe, where the Communists had naturally made greater progress, there is not as much concern about a shooting war with Russia as in this country. In fact, the Minister of War in Great Britain, Mr. Strachey, is a former admitted Communist, while in France, Monsieur Joliet-Curie, an avowed Communist, is High Commissioner of Atomic Energy.

The lack of concern about a war with Russia in these two outstanding European countries is possibly explained by the fact that the Communists constitute a much larger per cent of the population than in this country. In France, for instance, approximately 30% of the French population are admitted Communists, while in England the Socialists, who, in reality, are Junior Communists, are still in control of the Government.

WAR NOT INEVITABLE

As we have repeatedly pointed out in the past five years, a shooting war with Russia is not necessarily inevitable. That is not their method of operation. Communism is an ideology. It is a crusading religion. That the little band of men, headed by Joe Stalin, who make up the Politburo in the Kremlin hope to dominate the civilized world is an admitted fact. But they hope to accomplish this objective by the spread of this ideology rather than by force of arms. Their method, which has been demonstrated time and again, is to infiltrate; to place a hurdle here and a barrier there in the path of the coveted goal of world peace. Their hope and objective is that through this method peace and economic stability will be prevented. And finally, in chaos and confusion thus brought about in the other governments, they can take over. In all of the countries which Russia has taken over and now dominates, this method was used and not a single gun was fired.

We repeat once more, a shooting war cannot be written off as a possibility. We must keep our powder dry and be prepared. But, in our humble judgment, a shooting war with Russia is not a foreseeable probability.

"Roses Are Red, Violets Are Blue," Here Are A Few Tips For You

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

"Roses are red and violets are blue"—this may have been the case in the day of grandma and grandpaw. But not today!

We now have roses in just about every tint and hue, except the shades of blue. There is even a green rose.

No other flower enjoys the universal popularity of the rose, and few other flowers have the large selection of varieties. Each year finds several new varieties on the market.

Here are a few of the newer varieties of bush roses:

Red—Dixons Red, Charlotte Armstrong, Mirandy, Nocturne.

Pink—Show Girl, Pink Dawn.

Copper—tint—Mme. Cochet, Mme. E. Merriotte, Condesa de Santiago.

Yellow—Mme. E. P. Thom, Lowell Thomas, Eclipse, Mme. Joe Perraud.

White—Mrs. Jules Bouche, Kalsrine Auguste Viktoria (very profuse bloomer), White Briarsliff.

BI-COLORED OF VARIOUS SHADES

Countess Vandall, Taffeta, Peace.

Rose bushes should be placed in a well drained, sunny area. Fertilize them with 6-8-6 fertilizer, mulch with leaves and spray regularly. Mulching will cut down on the job of cultivating and working around the plants.

Fermate, applied about every two weeks after growth begins and continued until frost, is a good control for leaf spot diseases. It can be applied as a spray (2 level table-spoonfuls and a good spreader, according to the manufacturer's directions, to 1 gallon of water; or as a dust, ½ pound Fermate mixed with 4½ pounds talc dust. There are combination materials on the market which control both diseases and insects.

BUYING MEN'S SUITS

There are many things for men to think about when they go to buy a suit. Suit construction is complicated. Much that affects wearing quality, appearance, and fit is hidden. Certain qualities show up only with wear and cleaning. Unfortunately, labels now used in men's suits give little information.

However, anyone who is interested can learn facts about cloth that will serve as a guide in buying. In judging values, it helps to know something about the types of suitings commonly used and the characteristics of different cloths. What kind of wear is each best suited for? Which stand up best with hard use and dry cleaning? Which wrinkle least? Which hold a press? Which are least likely to become shiny?

PREMEASUREMENT OF COTTON ACREAGE ALLOTMENTS

Hancock County cotton growers can arrange for official measurement of their 1950 farm cotton-acreage allotments prior to planting time, the County Production and Marketing Administration Committee announced this week.

To get the premeasurement service, which is being provided on a cost basis, a cotton farmer must file a written request with the county PMA office after April 2, 1950 but no later than April 17, 1950. The rate to be charged for the service has been established at $2.50 plus 25c per acre for each acre in the cotton allotment and payment basis.

ed on this rate must be made at the time the request for measurement is filed.

The premeasurement is purely optional, and is offered as a service to growers who prefer to have an official measurement to use as a planting guide.

All cotton acreage in the county will be measured as soon as possible after the cotton "comes up" to determine compliance with the acreage allotment-marketing quota program. When compliance is checked, the farmer will be considered to be within the farm acreage allotment if the crop is planted within the premeasured area.

FOR BIGGER AND BETTER PASTURES

It is fortunate that the best pastures usually do the best job of conserving the soil, says Randolph

W. Seal, chairman of the Hancock County PMA Committee.

As the chairman explains, poor pasture provides little protective cover for the land, leaving it subject to sheet erosion and gullying. On the other hand, good pasture provides a protective cover that breaks the fall of the raindrops, checks the water so that more of it soaks into the ground, and holds the land so that it isn't washed away.

At the same time, a good pasture provides additional forage for livestock.

When properly managed, livestock can be turned in earlier in the spring and held on later in the fall. In short, says the chairman, the good pasture means better feed for more livestock.

The Agricultural Conservation Program through assistance to farmers in the use of lime and phosphate and other fertilizers, the chairman explains, has done much to help the farmers of Hancock County. The result for many farmers has been better and more pasture often without increasing the acreage of pasture land.

In many instances, according to the chairman, the carrying capacity of pastures has been increased 50 percent and the pasture season lengthened 12 weeks. This has meant more and better food for consumers and also has served consumers by protecting the soil and water resources of the county.

The 1950 Agricultural Conservation Programs, says the chairman, will continue to encourage and assist farmers in carrying out pasture improvement practices. Information on the 1950 program can be obtained from county and community Production and Marketing committees and from the county PMA office at Bay St. Louis.

Farmers of Hancock County have an opportunity in 1950 of making better use of the Agricultural Conservation Program than ever before, continues Mr. Seal.

With allotments on cotton, rice and wheat and the need to shift production on some of the acreage to these crops, farmers have an opportunity to use the Agricultural Conservation Program in the seeding of grasses and legumes. In this, cooperating farmers will not only be helping to bring production into balance, but they will be building reserves in the soil for future years, and will be truly helping to "Make 1950 Pasture Year" in Mississippi.

The seeding of grass and legumes is only a part of the job of most effective conservation. To obtain the maximum in stands and growth, the chairman points out, most soils require lime, phosphate and potash, and the agricultural conservation practices for the application of these materials are an important part of the current conservation effort.

ACP assistance for these practices is available to all farmers in Hancock County, says the chairman. With these practices as tools in the effort to control erosion and build soil fertility, farmers in the county are in a position to make greater and more effective use of the program than ever before.

To help farmers use this program to the best advantage, elected farmer-committeemen are available in every farming community. The chairman urges all farmers to use these men in analyzing conservation problems and in helping to select practices to meet them.

The Valena C. Jones pre-dedication banquet was held in the Valena C. Jones assembly room, Thursday, March 16. The guest of honor was Mrs. Alberta Nicholas, principal of Nicholas High School in Biloxi, Mississippi; she was also one of the speakers. Many distinguished guests were present. Among them were Mrs. May Williams, president of the P-T-A, Rev. Johnson, minister of P-T-A, Rev. Johnson, minister of P-T-A, Mrs. G. Harrison, Jeanes teacher of Hancock County schools; Bishop Jones, and Dr. D. D. Jones, president of Bennett College in Greensboro, North Carolina.

The dinner was prepared by Mr. L. Benjamin and was supervised by Mrs. A. D. Coggins. The waitresses were students of Valena C. Jones school.

The dedication of Valena C. Jones School will be held Sunday, March 26. One of the speakers will be Miss F. Williams, principal of the Valena C. Jones School in New Orleans, Louisiana. Everyone is invited to attend.

Jefferson Collins was baptized at the St. Rose de Lima Church Saturday, March 18; he made his first Holy Communion Sunday at the six o'clock Mass. The pastor, Rev. Conrad A. Kinder, baptized him and the missionary, Rev. Joseph Eckert, gave him his first communion.

The mission held at St. Rose de Lima church was a great success. Many non-Catholics attended; they, as well as the Catholics, enjoyed the sermons. There was a large number of daily communicants. On Monday night Rev. Father Haffler of St. Augustine Seminary performed the ceremonies of the Mass while Father Eckert explained them. On Wednesday night, other than the usual mission sermon there was the solemn renewal of Baptismal vows followed by solemn benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. The Papal blessing was also given.

Instructions for converts to the Catholic faith will begin Monday, March 27, at St. Rose de Lima Church. Anyone who is interested may attend. Applications may be made at the pastor's rectory.

Rev. Clarence Howard, S. V. D., of St. Augustine's Seminary is making a tour of the Southern missions. He is showing a mission film for the purpose of getting vocations for the Society.

Rev. Joseph Eckert, S. V. D., had as his guest Monday, March 20, one of the Isola brothers of Brooklyn, New York. These brothers sell religious pictures. Four years ago this family entertained at their home his eminence Thomas Cardinal Tien of China. For the occasion they had decorated the cardinal's chair with a red ribbon; the chair remains the same to this day.

Soil Conservation

By J. L. BISHOP
Soil Conservation Service

Re-seeding crimson clover was almost unknown in Hancock County Soil Conservation District three years ago, when Otto Rester, District Commissioner, in Leetown Community, planted five acres for winter grazing and soil building. Last year, largely because of Rester's success with the legumes re-seeding crimson clover was planted by 35 farmers on more than 200 acres in the Hancock County District.

Rester let the clover go to seed in the spring and kept the land fallow during the summer. The following fall slag and potash was applied and disked in lightly.

This clover is playing an important role in his soil conservation program by reducing soil erosion, providing winter pasture, and improving soil fertility.

Adding humus to the soil is Willie Sellers' theme song these days. He started this practice to increase corn yields during the fall of 1949 in connection with his Soil Conservation Plan which the Soil Conservation Service technicians helped him prepare.

A five acre field on his farm located one mile south of Catahoula School which made only 10 bushels of corn to the acre in 1949 is estimated to make 25 bushels an acre this year.

Here's what he is doing to help boost yields this season: early October he cut and turned under crop residue, mineralized the soil and planted blue lupines. The lupines have grown about knee high and are beginning to bloom. Sellers examined the blue lupines recently and found plenty of nitrogen nodules on the roots of the plants and decided to start turning them under for a green manure crop.

Sellers plans to follow lupines with corn interplanted with cowpeas this spring. Next fall he will follow corn-cowpeas with either blue lupines or re-seeding crimson clover. Sellers will keep on improving his soil by growing and turning under cover crops each year. By following this method of farming, within a few years he will be able to produce 50 to 60 bushels of corn an acre on his farm.

Miss Helen Fay Bounds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewey Bounds of Salem, and Mr. Noel Davis, of Philip, Miss., were quietly married Saturday night at 7:15 in the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by Brother Randolph Allen, pastor of the Cedar Grove Baptist church.

The couple will make their home in Salem where the groom will operate a dairy farm.

Miss Bobby Jean Lee spent last week in New Orleans visiting her sister, Mrs. R. A. Hymel, and baby daughter, Fay Ann.

THE BIBLE IS A CATHOLIC BOOK

People differ radically in what they think about the Bible.

Some seem to think it was handed down from Heaven written in English and bound in Morocco. Many accept it as the inspired Word of God without knowing why they are justified in doing so. And others say that the Bible is full of contradictions and must be taken "with a grain of salt."

A proper understanding of the Scriptures can exert a tremendous influence for good in your personal life. You should, therefore, know where we get the Bible... what it means... why you can believe its every word.

Nowhere in the Bible text will you find a list of the 73 inspired books of which it is composed. This list was given to the world by the Catholic Church almost three full centuries after the crucifixion of Jesus Christ. Between the time of the Crucifixion and the time that the Scriptures were gathered into a single Book, millions had received and accepted the teachings of Christ... and had died without ever seeing the complete Bible.

Established by Christ Himself and rapidly spread among the nations of the world, the Catholic Church was carrying on Christ's work for the salvation of men some 60 years before the Apostle John wrote his book of the New Testament.

For more than a thousand years afterward, the Scriptures were preserved and circulated by Catholic monks and scholars who laboriously copied the sacred text by hand. And the Bible authorized by the Catholic Church was the first book produced by Gutenberg upon the invention of printing.

Yes, the Bible is truly a Catholic book. They were members of the Catholic Church who, under God's inspiration, wrote the New Testament in its entirety.

It was the Catholic Church which treasured it and gave it to the world in its original and unaltered form. It is the infallible authority of the Catholic Church that always has been the only sure guarantee of its inspiration.

There are obscure and difficult passages in the Bible, some of which may seem confusing. But with the complete revealed truth of God, delivered to her from the beginning, the Catholic Church has faithfully unfolded the meaning of the written Word of God to past generations of mankind—and does so today.

Those who are familiar with the Bible, as well as those who are reading it for the first time, will find many important questions concerning it clearly answered in a free booklet which we shall send you on request. Ask for Pamphlet No. 3-N.

Don't let forest fires tip the scales

The wood grown in our forests each year almost equals the wood we cut for use and that destroyed by fire, insects, disease and wind. Were it not for forest fires, the timber growth would exceed the timber drain.

Moreover, nine-tenths of our forest fires are caused by people and thus, can be prevented.

You can help bring about this balance by being careful with fire in the woods. Help Keep America Green.

		Be it Ordered, by the Board that the Board recess until Monday, February 13th, 1950 at 9:00 o'clock A. M.
		ED. P. ORTIE
		President, Board of Supervisors. Monday, February 13th, 1950 at 9:00 o'clock A. M., the Board met pursuant to recess. There were present, Jos. C. Jones, Frank Kellar, Johnson Shaw, Jack Lott, Ed. P. Ortie, Members, B. D. Johnson, Sheriff of said County, A. C. Mitchell, Clerk of said Board.

On Motion of Supervisor Jones, and duly seconded by Supervisor Shaw, the following Resolution was introduced and Unanimously approved:

Whereas during the year 1948, Mrs. Grace A. Ortie conveyed to the County a certain strip of land to be used for road purposes and particularly to and from a County dredge boat that was then owned by the County, and:

Whereas said deed was executed and delivered to the County on condition that if said road should be abandoned, title to said road would revert to Mrs. Grace A. Ortie, and Whereas the County has sold the dredge boat and said road is no longer needed by the county and should be abandoned to save the expense of maintaining the road, and:

Fish Story: Who's Right?!!

Handy Peterson and Easy Roberts got in quite an argument the other day over a Fred's Garage talking about the best spot to fish up at Green Lake.

Opposite the old sawmill is the best spot, says Handy. But Easy "pooch-pooch" him. "I've seen the biggest fish caught off Cedar Point," says Easy. "I've been catching them there for years."

Then Fred goes into his office and brings out the biggest mounted rainbow trout you ever saw. "Bet that was caught at the sawmill," comments Handy. "Cedar Point," says Easy.

"Well," says Fred, "you're both wrong. I caught this baby right out in the middle!"
From where I sit, there are always two (or more) sides to every story. Let's live and let live in the true American tradition of toleration. Your opinion is worth a lot, but so is the other fellow's—whether it's on politics, the best fishing spots, or whether he likes a temperate glass of beer and you like buttermilk.
